The JDA story

JDA is an internationally recognised recruitment consultancy.

We provide a comprehensive and innovative range of human resources management services to the mining, oil and gas, engineering, construction and manufacturing sectors.

Founded in 1990, JDA has successfully implemented recruitment campaigns for major mining and construction projects around the globe.

We currently employ over 100 staff, and develop and maintain quality relationships with the world's leading resources companies.

With offices in countries including Australia, Papua New Guinea, Indonesia and New Caledonia, we are well-placed to provide superior recruitment solutions now and into the future.

The JDA difference

Knowledge base

Our data base has access to more than 200,000 potential candidates world-wide - unrivalled in the recruitment industry.

Client partnership

We consider our clients as partners and work alongside them to achieve results.

Industry expertise

Our highly-qualified regional managers know our clients' business through first-hand industry experience.

Proactive approach

We are known for our ability to locate difficult-to-find people because of our proactive search techniques.

Strategic alliances

Our organisation actively fosters strategic alliances with other organisations, enabling it to compete in a global environment.

Our trades labour service

Another reason to choose JDA for your human resources solutions is our skilled trades labour service.

We understand the labour requirements of your business may change from time to time. By choosing our trades labour service, you can enjoy the benefits of a superior workforce, with employment flexibility that suits the needs of your business.

We can provide trades labour trade specialists in the following industry sectors:

- Mining and construction
- Manufacturing
- Maintenance and Shutdowns
- Marine industry
- Oil and gas
- Civil engineering
- Defence support

Our trade specialists range from electrical, mechanical, welding and metal fabrication to building, construction, trades and operations staff.

Our commitment to safety

We take safety seriously at JDA and we expect our workforce to adhere to safe working practices.

Our commitment to safety is not simply the responsibility of JDA. We also work closely with our clients to achieve best practice and provide assistance and training where required.

We are first by choice

Our account managers come from trades and industrial backgrounds. Their focus is on supplying you with reliable, high quality trades labour personnel.

To sustain our high standards, we value and encourage your feedback.
